I appreciate this opportunity to offer my positive comments on the assistance that Nicole gave my husband and I in selling our home in Ranchlands Estates and purchasing a new one Inner City. As clients, I am sure we were at times difficult. We were not focused at the onset and a little particular later on, but Nicole navigated us through not only the emotional upheavals that come with a large change, but she particularly took the pain out of the negotiations and subsequent business dealings. It was as if we did not have to do anything ourselves, and we did not have to panic when we were in fact, carrying two mortgages. Yes, we bought first and sold later, but with Nicole as our agent we only looked forward to the future. She is keenly attuned to the market and a really strong negotiator. She tells it like it is and I appreciate that. We are happy with the price we paid for our new home and satisfied with the selling price of our old home. In fact, we got it all. One stop shopping! (Nicole was also a lot of fun to house hunt with!) I have and will continue to recommend Nicole to my family and friends. She's the best and she DOES know how to move you!!!
